This old school house sits abandoned in a barren pasture which was chisled to prevent blowing and hold any moisture that might fall.

Forlorn Holsteins of the Hinders herd are silhouetted against a wheat field where not a bit of greenery was available to them.

Louis Hinders, a national dairy leader, eyes his dwindling hay supply. When it is gone replacement hay may be expensive.

Row Crop Planting, Feed Critical

Milk Production Drop Is Forecast

Milk production in the area has held up until now, but it will begin to drop soon because people are thinking about selling out, predicted Louis Hinders Monday.

Hinders, who is a director of Associated Milk Producers and of the National Milk Producers Federation, said that the cost of hay has doubled because it's dry "all the way from here to Corpus Christi." Areas which usually produce hay for dairy farmers just don't have any available, he said.

Hinders is feeding his own stock corn bran, and said that other dairy farmers are feeding gin trash mixed with grain. "This is so widespread — all over the whole state and Oklahoma and New Mexico — that everybody's in the same condition — no roughage feed is available."

"Even rain in Oklahoma would help us, because they could get some feed growing," said Hinders.

He said New Mexico had no snow pack to supply moisture for alfalfa, which is and will be in short supply.

The only bright spot is Colorado, he said. The state has had a lot of snow and should have a lot of hay two or three months from now.

Hinders expects.

Government price supports have been adjusted in consideration of the dairyman's expenses said Hinders. Parity has risen from $4.66 to $4.93 per hundred pounds.

Retail prices have not reflected this change as yet. L. B. Parker, president of Amarillo, said that retail prices are tied to the Minnesota-Wisconsin price and are always a month behind. He expects to know about any changes by May 5 or 6. Plains is now paying a premium to the co-op from which it buys, which makes the distributor's cost $7.53 a hundred pounds for Class 1 milk.

Roughneck, Cowboy, Hobo, Editor

BY TROY MARTIN

Even while he was working as a cowboy, roughnecking in an oil field and bumming his way across the country Jerry Malin knew he would wind up as a newspaperman.

He got printer's ink in his blood while as a lad of 12 he was working on a Nebraska weekly. Jerry, who was one day to become reporter and printer for The Canyon News, editor of the West Texas State University Prairie, sports editor of The Amarillo Daily News and later head of the budding WT journalism department, started as a printer's devil.

His Nebraska editor told him he would never be any good as a printer until he could set columns of handset type with his eyes closed. Jerry learned to do just that.

Tuesday Malin, now retired, visited The News office and watched the work of a typesetting computer that can set more type in an hour than a good type setter could put together in a week when Jerry started 59 years ago.

Jerry remembers fondly the "modern" press his paper used back in Nebraska about 1912. It was gasoline driven with the drive belt going through the building wall to the engine outside.

Jerry fed the press. "That press made beautiful music to me," Malin remembers. "I used to feed it a single sheet of paper to the rhythm of its whoosh. When the flat piece of paper was printed on both sides it was addressed.

Back home from France, he went to work for a telephone company. He lost his job and he and a pal decided Jerry Malin is incredulous as he looks at the newest piece of equipment — a computer typesetter — installed by The Canyon News. Jerry, who worked for the News while a college student, said the machine would set as much copy in an hour as he used to be able to handset in a week.

Old Oral Pact Causes Hassle

BY TROY MARTIN

An oral agreement in the 1930s on road right of way has pulled Randall County into a squabble between Professional Landscaping and Southwestern Public Service Company.

Miss Harriet Carter who is associated with Lewis Hyman in the landscaping company says the utility firm is encroaching on what she had considered her company's property.

Ed Webber of Southwestern Public Service Company admits some encroachment but not to the extent Miss Carter claims.

The tangled web was woven in the 1930s when Commissioner W.E. "Lash" Bennett made an oral agreement with Henry Bassett to put a county road through Bassett property instead of putting it across an adjacent lake bed in north Randall County.

In return for the road site the county gave Bassett 40 feet off the west side of the adjoining section. It was this 40 feet which was county road right of way.

Schools Plan Make-Up Day

Canyon's public schools will make up the day lost in February because of bad weather Saturday.

"It will be a normal school day in every way except for early dismissal," said Oscar Hinger, principal of Rex Reeves School.

Students are to be dismissed at 2 p.m. Classes will start at 8:35 a.m., as usual.

The cafeterias will be open and school buses will run.

Hinger stressed the importance of a good attendance Saturday, saying that another day of school would have to be scheduled if attendance is poor.

"They just shook hands on it," Miss Carter related to commissioners court Monday.

Miss Carter says Southwestern Public Service Company is now busy putting guy wires down on what she had considered her property and otherwise cluttering up the place.

She pulls no punches in accusing the utility company of trespassing.

Miss Carter said the city of Amarillo has indicated that it wants the road straightened if it annexes the area.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton said he could find no record of the agreement described by Miss Carter and that a 1961 survey of the property shows no road.

Miss Carter said she either wants possession of the (see PACT, page 6)

sed and I would take it to the post office in a clothes hamper making three trips to get all the copies there."

Malin grew to young manhood and World War I broke out. He was off to the front in France as a medical corpsman.

In France he was a part of a bold new experiment — mobil hospitals. He was attached to a mobil unit which was nothing more than a truck equipped with beds. The big truck went almost to the front parking just behind the trenches.

Jerry became ill with a lung ailment which was to affect his health for many to go on the bum.

Sometimes they went for weeks without a decent meal. They would go to the back of a cafe and ask for a lump which was made up of leftovers. They subsisted in this manner.

Jerry became adept as a fry cook and held down some short term jobs. The hoboes always got wonderful lumps at the rear door of any (see EDITOR, page 6)

Grew With Canyon

Warren's Marks Fifty Years

BY NELL WILLIAMS

Three rows of pillars stand in Warren's today, and though their purpose is utilitarian, they are symbols of the 50-year history of the store.

Each row marks an expansion.

In April of 1921, when W. A. Warren opened The Man's Store, it was in the space now occupied by The Canyon News.

The firm moved down one door to its present location in 1924, and the owners added piece goods, ladies' ready-to-wear, and ladies' shoes.

Since 1924, successive enlargements have brought down three partitions, except for the pillars which support the roof. With the 1924 move, the business came to be called "The People's Store." It became "Warren's" in 1943.

The store's area is now 90 by 130 feet.

"The West was not much inclined to accept an Easter, said Warren, who was born in 1893 in Coryell County, ty, but the business grew and by 1929, the store was doing a good volume.

"I didn't intend to stay in the store business. That was just a temporary proposition," said Warren, who had come to Canyon with the intention of raising livestock.

"But the drought and depression never would let me out of the store."

"After I got in, I found it interesting and more profitable than ranching."

In 1930, Warren remembered, the banks closed and the recession was at its bottom. "We had a hard fight, but we survived by throwing one sale right after another."

The store stocked low-cost merchandise throughout the Thirties, he recalled, and then, sometimes, mothers whose children needed shoes would come in and ask if they could buy them for $1 down and pay the rest as they were able.

"Then, you could trust a person like that to the last dollar. Nowadays, you'd be surprised how many won't ever come back."

With the beginning of World War II, everything was prosperous and there were good crops, Warren said, but "merchandise was pre-rated," Mrs. Warren related. (see WARRENS, page 6)

Pancake Breakfast Is Sunday

St. Ann's Parish is sponsoring a Community Pancake Breakfast Sunday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Canyon Community Center.

The meal will consist of German sausage, pancakes, coffee or milk, and admission will be $1.50 for adults, $1 for students and children under six years old free.

The public is invited to the five-hour breakfast.

Make City Better Women Are Urged

BY MARGO CRABTREE

"It is the job of you women to make Canyon the best place to live."

Larry Milner, of the Industrial Development Department of Southwestern Public Service, stressed the need for women to stay in their towns and make the smaller cities a liveable community.

"You don't have to go out and knock on industries' doors and bring them to Canyon, Milner said. "That is the job of the men. But you do need to stay right here and do your part to make this city liveable for the young people, so they will return here to live and raise their families."

Milner and Elvin J. Schofield, also of the SPS development department, were guest speakers at the regular meeting of the women's division of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

Milner said in a recent survey he took at WTSU, most students were planning to live in a large city, rather than return to their hometowns, or towns the size of their hometowns.

"The reason they say this, is because most small towns are not as liveable as the large cities."

He urged that our big job is to make the smaller towns the best place to live.

Milner also pointed out that economic growth is important not only to Canyon, but to the entire Panhandle area. He said that 1,500 new plants will open in the United States this year, but some 15,000 organizations are trying to get these new plants to build and operate in their area.

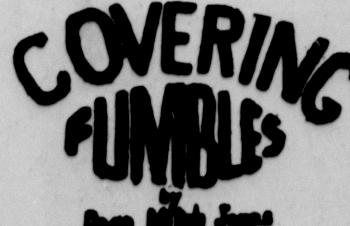

Milner did mention several problems which face the (see WOMEN, page 6)

Some men do not understand that I am a person of great humility because I feel none in their presence. I always feel humble in the presence of a little child.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

At a time when our need probably is greatest in Austin, the Panhandle has a bunch of freshmen in the state legislature.

Dean Cobb from Dumas and Tom Christian are exceptions but even these two bright spots in our delegation are not exactly veterans.

Two members of the Panhandle delegation voted to honor Caesar Chavez, the grape worker organizer who has stirred up such a fuss on the west coast. They probably didn't stop to think how that would set with the voters back in the Panhandle.

Amarillo legislators got their wires crossed on a piece of legislation dealing with hospital bond issues and had the embarrassment of having it condemned by the Amarillo city commission even as it was being introduced.

I understand that one Amarillo representative was the victim of some good natured hazing by fellow legislators when he arrived at Austin.

The poor guy told friends he was going to have the best office in the state capitol. He arrived to find his office in a basement.

He was paged in the House and told that Governor Smith wanted a conference with him. He hot footed it over to Smith's office only to learn that the governor was out of town.

A high official in the Democratic Party here in the Panhandle is said to have flown to Austin and upbraided Democrats from the area for mistreating the lad.

The Texas House is on record commending the Boston strangler for good work in population control on the east coast.

Right behind this astounding bit of information came a news release from a freshman legislator from the Panhandle in which he said, "bills must be studied carefully so that all legislation passed will be in the best interests of the people I represent and of this great state of Texas."

This came from one of the representatives who voted for the Caesar Chavez resolution.

We're going to miss the steady hand of Grady Hazlewood, the old grey fox who represented us so long in the Texas Senate. We're not going to build that kind of seniority overnight.

And we're not going to build seniority by changing representation every term. I expected a callow delegation this time so I am not disappointed.

You don't plant a seedling pine tree one day and harvest the lumber and build a mansion the next. Some things are accomplished only in the fullness of time.

Some of the legislators who went to Austin from the Panhandle for the first time this year won't be able to cut it and will have to be pruned from the ballot. Some who appear hopeless in this session may go on to become outstanding statesmen.

Our Panhandle delegation of freshmen may be harboring a governor or even a US senator.

I am much concerned over efforts by the state printing office to edit Representative Tom Christian's news letter.

Christian says he took to the printing office a letter in which there was criticism of the speaker of the house and was told that the name as well as other names would have to be deleted before it could be printed.

Christian, being the sturdy fellow he is, refused and had the letter printed privately. He says he has continued to have his news letters to constituents printed privately because he will not accede to censorship.

Since when does the state printer have the right to censor the news letter of a state representative to the people who elected him to represent them?

I received a scurrilous message from an Amarillo woman this week attacking Attorney General John Mitchell.

It included what is purported to have been a confidential memorandum from Mitchell to the White House staff.

The memorandum outlines five points by which it says the administration hopes to win the 1972 election.

Briefly these are:

1. Forced integration through government purchase of $50,000 mansions in all-white enclaves for Negro welfare recipients.

2. Refusal of the Department of Justice to support or enforce crime control measures.

3. Justice Department participation in union busting with white union leadership being replaced by Negro leaders handpicked by the White House.

4. Repressive tax measures against private schools.

5. Send troops to support Israel against the Arabs six weeks before the 1972 elections.

Purportedly by these stupid measures the attorney general hopes to win the 1972 election for Richard Nixon. Only a moron would believe this memorandum to be authentic.

I called the woman who sent the purported memorandum to me and the poor soul didn't even know what was in it although her name was signed to a letter to the President on the reverse side.

She at first denied having sent it and then admitted regularly sending out material with which she is not familiar.

She thanked me very sweetly for warning her that she may be an unwitting tool of this country's enemies.

The "memorandum" has been turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

WT Women's Track Team
Faces Tech In District Meet

West Texas State University's women's track team will compete Saturday at Texas Tech in Lubbock in the District I Texas Intercollegiate Association for Women meet.

The WTSU team, coached by Mrs. Mary Hill, is unbeaten in competition as a team this spring. The team beat Eastern New Mexico University in a dual meet at Portales and then captured titles in its own invitational and the Texas Tech Invitational.

Leading the team is Jo Meaker, a junior from Panhandle, and three talented freshmen — Judy Ottensmeyer of Amarillo, Gerrie Brockman of Nazareth and Vickie Vernon of Abilene.

Miss Meaker, a cute blonde, last year placed seventh in the long jump and ninth in the 200-meter hurdles at the Division of Girls' and Women's Sports National Meet at the University of Illinois.

Miss Ottensmeyer has thrown the discus 110 feet and that is better than the present state record in that event. Miss Brockman is unbeaten in the 220-yard and 440-yard dashes. Miss Vernon is unbeaten in the 100-yard dash.

Representing West Texas this week, besides those four girls, are Carolyn Roney, Brenda Lowrance, Molly Condron, Jan Murray, Cynthia Ham, Alice Lamb, Terry Shillings, Jane Van Dever, Shirley Pitts, Renee Cleveland, Cheryl Davis, Debbie Bray, and Debbie Carver.

Any athletes who place first, second or third in the district event Saturday will qualify for the State Meet April 30 in Denton, hosted by Texas Women's University.

Builders To Have
Open House Sunday

Bill Triplett and father A.L. Triplett, local builders, will hold an open house Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at 608 7th Ave. for their recently completed three bedroom brick house.

The fully carpeted home features a kitchen-dining area, separate living room, a bath and ¾, a paneled double garage, and raised panel doors throughout.

The woodwork feature on the cabinet doors was done by Bill Triplett, a 1966 graduate of West Texas State University who holds a degree in Industrial Education.

Local firms, including Taylor and Sons Lumber and Floyd Kiser Electric, supplied materials and wiring for the new home.

The newly completed house has central heating, refrigerated air conditioning, built-ins, a dishwasher and garbage disposal.

The modern home is brick in Western 8, a beige tone. The builders hope that Canyon residents will stop in to view the new house during the Open House period Sunday.

City Paving
Nearing End

A 12-block paving program is two-thirds complete, City Manager George Louder said this week.

The city is widening Eighth Street for five blocks between the junior high school building and the high school and seven blocks of new paving is being done in Hunsley Hills.

Louder said some 55 blocks of seal coating will be done later this year.

Booster Club
Meets Monday

Officers of the Canyon High School Booster Club will be elected Monday night at a meeting in the high school cafeteria.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and all interested persons are urged to attend, according to president Weldon Trice.

Trice also said that plans for the All-Sports banquet, scheduled for May 15, will be finalized.

Our World
BY ANN BROWN

The four editors of the national religious journals, who joined forces to write a joint editorial protesting the war, seem to have aimed at the wrong target. Should they not have addressed their remarks to North Vietnam and Russia rather than the United States?

The journalists accuse the U.S. of "repeating the crucifixion of Christ in Southeast Asia." Perhaps they should brush up on the meaning of the crucifixion. They seem to have overlooked the fact that Jesus went to the cross voluntarily.

Who ever heard of defensive warfare being waged voluntarily? Did the U.S. go over to help the South Vietnamese before they were attacked?

No one denies that North Vietnam invaded the South — and continues to attack them. The aggressors in any conflict can stop the proceedings any time they choose to do so. The defenders can stop it only by complete surrender, which may lead to their annihilation.

This is a vital point ignored by the doves. They proceed on the assumption that we have a choice of war or peace — a privilege only the aggressors possess. The only choice the defenders have is war or slavery. And as hellish as war is, many of us still prefer it to slavery.

The preachers-turned-politicos have accused the U.S. of all sorts of atrocities for aiding the besieged South, but not a word of condemnation for the invaders from the North. Could it be that the gentlemen of the cloth have beams in their eyes?

Some 3000 civilians — men, women, and children — were reported murdered by the Viet Cong at Hue. Their hands were tied behind them, and each was shot in the back of the head. Many were buried alive. Does anyone recall the righteous people who are screaming for Lt. Calley's blood decrying that massacre?

In New York, the Central Conference of American Rabbis, purported to represent 1100 Reformed Rabbis across the country, called the war an "unspeakable tragedy." (Surely every American would agree.) The rabbis demanded a complete withdrawal of American troops.

Did the war start with American troops? How many years has there been constant war in this unfortunate land? Would it stop if we withdrew? Authorities estimate, on the contrary, that there would be thousands of "Hues."

Is it wrong to kill civilians only when Americans do the killing?

When Jane Fonda and her ilk put on their "peace" demonstrations, they castigate America and sing the praises of Ho and Mao. Odd heroes for peace lovers.

Jerry Rubin, another vociferous opponent of the war, says the first thing the young rebels should do if they want to save the world, is kill their parents. Apparently, murder is fine — as long as the "peace lovers" do the killing.

If Uncle Sam is the bloody tyrant the pacifist preachers, radical actors, and rock-throwing yuppies say he is, why don't they move over to the peaceful green pastures of some communist country. America has no iron curtain to stop them. But — what would happen if they should bad-mouth Ho, Kossygin, or Castro the way they do Uncle Sam?

Canyon News
Dear Ann Brown:

I have thoroughly enjoyed your column "Our World" in the Canyon News ever since you began writing it.

And while I sometimes differ with you, I want now to commend you tremendously on your article in the issue of April first.

Would that many more would be as outspoken in defense of the most innocent and helpless of all human beings.

I've written many letters to our Senators & Representatives but have never been able to express myself so well as you have.

Thank you very much for this.

Sincerely,

New Addition To WTSU Cafeteria Now Open

BY CAROL CRAIN
The new addition of the East Cafeteria which cost some $800,000, opened its doors yesterday to serve the noon luncheon.

On the menu was hamburger, Julienne salad plate, and macaroni and cheese.

The new addition features green carpeting throughout, main floor and balcony seating areas, tables for four and sixes, and two meeting rooms.

The serving area consists of two scramble systems and cold and hot drink bars. New china for the WT cafeteria has been ordered and will arrive during the summer.

The dining hall can serve over 1100 students during the dinner hour, allowing a three time turn-over. There are approximately 350 seats available at any one time.

One meeting room, the green room, will seat around 60 persons, with the gold room seating from 15 to 20. "We welcome outside groups," stated Wes Miller, food service director in his discussion of the two meeting rooms. Luncheon, small banquets, and receptions may be held in the room for the cost of the meal or food. Meals would range in price from $2 for chopped steak, $2.75 for roast beef, or $3 up for a steak.

Persons wishing to reserve a room and bring their own refreshments would be charged for clean-up only, from $5 up, and allowed to use the facility as long as another event was not scheduled there.

Large banquets will be scheduled in the newly redecorated East Cafeteria next year, leaving the new addition to the students.

The students are paying for the new facility through their mandatory meal tickets, Miller pointed out, and noted that they will come first.

The meal ticket allows persons who are doing student teaching or who have jobs away from the campus to pick up a sack lunch before leaving. If the cafeteria is closed they may come in the rear entrance to be served.

They have paid for their meals and have a right to be fed, Miller noted.

The cafeteria now serves breakfast from 7:15 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. and a continental breakfast from 9:15 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

This allows students with a 10 o'clock class to come for a light breakfast before going to class, Miller pointed out.

Miss Davis Dies, Rites Tuesday

Funeral services for Rejeda Sparr Davis, 19, were conducted at 4 p.m. Tuesday in LaGrone Funeral Chapel with Rev. H. D. Freeman, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial followed in Dreamland Cemetery.

Pallbearers were T. B. Cox, J. W. Youngblood, Ray Johnson, Eric Burnett, Leroy Miller, Russell Thompson, Jack Williams, and Ray Bible. Charles Hunter and Roscoe Richardson were honorary pallbearers.

Miss Davis died in Neblett Hospital at 11:50 p.m. Sunday night. She had lived in Canyon for about seven months with her sister Mrs. Don Davis at 1303 Eighth Ave. She was born in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Survivors include her father, Herman E. Davis of El Paso; her mother, Mrs. Jesse Seitz of Austin; sisters, Mrs. Don Davis of Canyon, Mrs. Rene Edward of Pampa, and Mrs. Rise Brantley of Amarillo, Georgia, Jody and Marian Seitz, all of Austin; two brothers, George Bradley Davis and Jonathan Alan Davis, both of Austin; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Roark of Lone Grove, Oklahoma and Mrs. Marie Adams of Pampa, and Mrs. Lillian Cope of Nashville, Tennessee; and great-grandmother Mrs. Rosa Martin of Pampa.

New Traffic Light Is In

A new traffic light will be in operation by Friday at the corner of Fourth Avenue and 26th Street in Canyon, according to Jim Moss, traffic engineer for District 4 of the Texas Highway Department.

The actuated signal will allow traffic to flow constantly on Fourth Avenue if there is no traffic on 26th Street. If cars approach the intersection on 26th Street, the signal will be activated to change the lights.

"If there is no traffic on 26th Street," says Moss, "then the light on Fourth Avenue will remain green."

Moss explains the light was installed by request from West Texas State University and Canyon officials.

District Meet Is Saturday

Canyon High School varsity and ninth grade track teams will compete Saturday in the district meet at West Texas State University.

The meet begins at 8 a.m. with high school, ninth grade and university teams all on campus for various competition.

The 120-yard high hurdles will be the first event for each division, followed by the 100-yard dash, the 440-yard dash, the 200-yard, 330-yard and 440-yard intermediate hurdles, and the 220-yard dash.

Other events will include the 440 relay, 880 relay, mile run, three-mile run, and the mile relay.

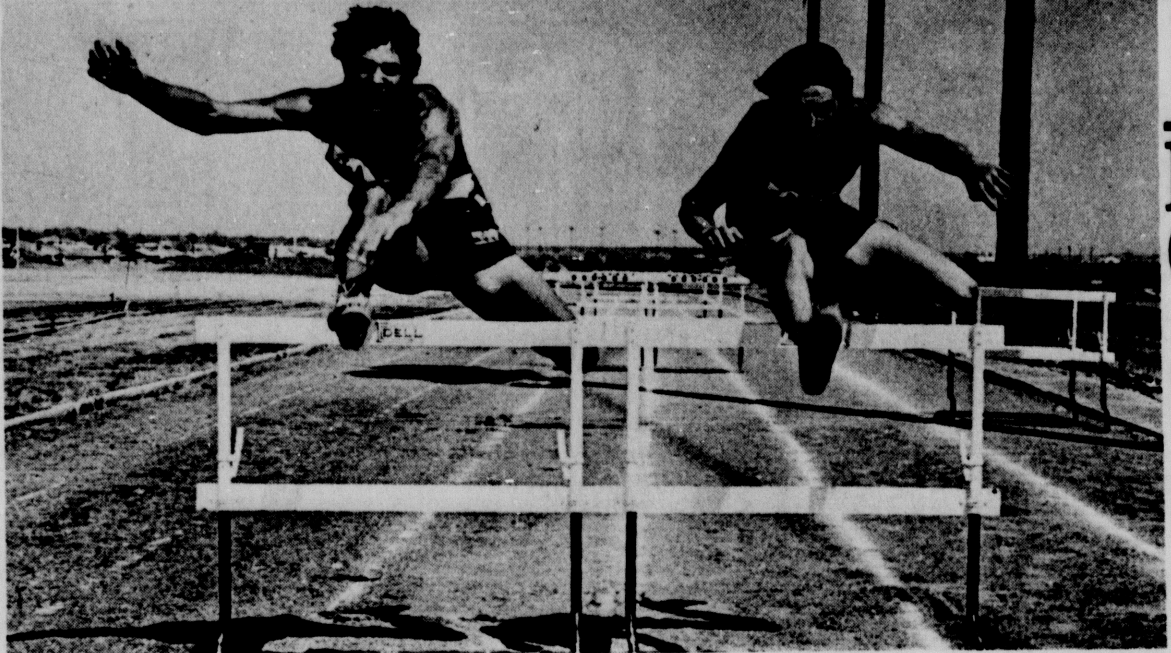

Mark Freeman Places In Meet

Mark Freeman, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Freeman won first place in the broad jump at the state Royal Ambassador Congress and Track Meet in Brownwood last weekend.

Freeman also picked up a second place award in the 75 yard dash.

Some 500 boys participated in the track meet and Royal Ambassador Congress, which is a boys mission program in the Calvary Baptist Church.

Freeman has won first in the broad jump for three straight years, and has won

It's up and over for Allen Bedell, left, and John Upshaw who will compete Saturday in the district track meet at West Texas State University.

WTSU Baseball Game Postponed

Tuesday afternoon's scheduled baseball doubleheader at Buffalo Field between West Texas State and Lubbock Christian College was postponed until Tuesday.

West Texas has a 16-12 record after beating Hardin-Simmons University twice Saturday, 6-4 and 16-3. The second game was halted after four innings because of the 10-run rule and because Hardin-Simmons had no more healthy pitchers to insert in the game.

The Buffaloes have also won 16 of their last 20 games of the season. They fell twice to LCC in earlier games this season at Lubbock. LCC has a 17-4 record for the season.

Tuesday's games against LCC will be the final home game of the year for the Buffaloes.

Mr. and Mrs. Mattie Mack visited in Paducah last week.

After the closing ritual, Mrs. Carl Sims and Mrs. Speck Benham introduced the program. Mrs. Roy Reynolds won the door prize and Mrs. Lester Crow served refreshments. The next meeting will be held April 21 with Mrs. Sims as hostess.

WT Ticket Sales Still Climbing

Buff football ticket sales are well above this same period of last year, says athletic business manager Wayne Ray.

More than 1500 season tickets have been sold to date, and Ray says this is ahead of last year's figures.

Ray said that last year a total of 2386 season tickets were sold. He expects to top that figure this year.

He pointed out that beginning Monday, coaches from WT will participate in a program throughout the area talking about West Texas State University and the athletic program.

"They will speak in towns throughout the Panhandle to any group that is interested in hearing of WT," Ray noted.

Camp To Speak At Fellowship

Curtis Camp, minister of the Bell Avenue Church of Christ in Amarillo, will speak at the annual Church of Christ Bible Chair Fellowship Friday at 6:30 p.m. in WTSU's East Cafeteria. His subject will be "Spiritual Famine in a Time of Plenty."

Between 300 and 400 people are expected to attend.

Gordon Downing, director of the Bible Chair, will be master of ceremonies. Dr. James P. Cornette, president of the university, will make the welcoming address.

Boys Learn To Build In Classes On Square

Gun cabinets, bookcases, a camper to go on a pickup truck, and two portable classrooms have been issued from Canyon High School's building trades department since its beginning this fall.

With headquarters on the square at 402 15th Street, the students of Harold Hagemeyer are being exposed to all phases of light residential construction and some cabinet work.

Hagemeyer said the classes have done concrete work, plumbing, electrical work, carpentry, and painting. Individual jobs currently in progress include gun cabinets and a camper to be mounted on a pickup truck.

The year's largest project was the building of two portable classrooms now in use at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

Most of the work is sold to private customers and the money goes into a fund to help support the program, which is sponsored by the Texas Education Agency.

cafe in which Jerry happened to be working.

Malin and his buddy were kicked off a train in Grand Junction, Colo., in the early 1920s. It was snowing and they went to sleep in a sand house where sand was heated and dried for use in sand boxes on railroad trains.

Dry sand was placed in train sand boxes and sprinkled on wet or slick rail to improve traction.

While sleeping in the sand house Jerry got his feet too close to the heating apparatus and burned the toes off his shoes.

There he was, far from home, broke, and almost barefoot. He and his pal decided they better stay there and work a while.

After working in a cream station for a time, Malin at last became an official milk and cream examiner. His buddy married the town undertaker's daughter and became a mortician, a profession he made his career.

A man Malin knew in Grand Junction had some interests at Burkburnett, Texas and through him Malin wound up as a roustabout in the Burkburnett oil field.

He decided he needed some schooling so he forsook the oil field and his get rich quick schemes and headed for West Texas State in 1923. Dr. J. A. Hill had been president of the school just five years when Malin arrived.

He majored in English because there was no journalism department at the time. He was interested in journalism anyway and was soon working on The Prairie.

There he met a lifelong interest, Miss Elizabeth Webb of Baird who was society editor of the West Texas State newspaper.

Jerry was busy writing. He took a part time job at The Canyon News with Clyde Warwick. He also did free lance correspondence with 17 Texas newspapers including The Amarillo Daily News which eventually was to be purchased by a young Kansas publisher named Gene Howe.

While working at The Canyon News Jerry saved money by sleeping in the back of the news building.

In 1924 he and the society editor of The Prairie made some society news of their own by going to the altar.

Jerry got his diploma in 1927 but jobs were hard to come by. He went to work as a cook for an oil well drilling crew at Baird, his wife's hometown.

"That's some of the best money I ever made in my life for the time spent," Malin remembers.

That job played out when the driller decided the oil well was nothing more than a dry hole. Jerry went to Dallas where he picked up work as a billing clerk for a wholesale grocery firm.

Two years after graduation and supposedly a writer, Malin had gotten to use his journalistic talents very little so he was overjoyed when Wes Izzard called him and asked him how he would like to be sports editor for the Amarillo newspapers. Malin stayed with that job for 14 years until he left it to join the war effort in 1943 in the middle of World War II.

The most memorable episode during his tenure as sports editor at Amarillo came when he sued two major league ball clubs and impounded their equipment, including their uniforms.

Malin had personally sponsored the appearance of the Chicago White Sox and the Pittsburgh Pirates one April in the early 1930s.

It was spitting snow when the special cars with the baseball players aboard rolled into the Amarillo station. The match was to begin at the city ball park at 1 o'clock and it was a sell out.

Malin was already counting his profits in a depression day when just a few bucks meant a lot to a young man with a wife and three kids.

Jerry went to get pictures of Ted Lyons, Sox pitcher, and Pie Trayner, famed Pirate third baseman.

He asked George Gibson, Pirate manager, where he might find the two fabled ball players.

"Hell there's not going to be any ball game," Gibson retorted with arrogance. "There was snow on the ground when we got in this morning."

Malin pleaded for the two teams just to show up and let the people see them. Gibson adamantly refused.

A crestfallen Malin went back to The Globe-News office. He told his publisher about it. "I'm a good notion to sue them," he declared as he left Howe's presence.

Howe chortled approval. When the two ball clubs tried to board their special cars the way was barred by the Potter County sheriff who was armed with a writ of replevin. The ball clubs were not allowed to load their equipment until proper bond had been made.

The courts awarded Malin $1,280 and he got national headlines. Malin wound up World War II with the Office of War Information and then after doing newspaper work which included a stint on The Amarillo Times he was back at his alma mater as head of the journalism department which was then attached to the English Department. He also served as information director for the school. He was here a couple of years before another brief stint with The Globe.

Leaving The Globe, Jerry spent the last 17 or so years of his active career as a public relations man but always close to the newspaper business he loves. He retired in 1967 and he and Mrs. Malin live in Bossier City, La.

"I've had an interesting career," the 71-year-old Malin reminisced while visiting friends here Tuesday.

PHF Board To Elect Officers

Panhandle Heritage Foundation board members will elect officers at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Badger Room of the Amarillo Junior College. Board members will also hear an analysis of "They Came From Spain" by a prospective production director.

Frieze To Complete 46 Years At Warren's

Kenneth Elijah (Lige) Frieze hopes to finish his forty-sixth year as the head of Warren's shoe department in June, "if I can hold out that long."

When he took the job, he said he told the owner, W. A. Warren, "I'd stay till he found someone to take care of it." He added, "It hasn't been so long, really."

Frieze is a native of Silverton, but has been in Canyon since 1915.

He said he had worked with the public ever since his high school days. "I've enjoyed meeting the public and enjoyed the people."

Frieze plans a summer retirement. "I want to make it on to my 46 years."

Mrs. Frieze is the former Evelyn Tanner. She is a native of Terrell.

Warren's. . .

minded him. "Our shelves were bare."

In spite of their difficulties, Warren, and his wife, who began working the store with him in 1924 and who heads the ladies' department, recall their years in Canyon as good years. "I'm very thankful to the people of Canyon. They've been loyal and good to us for 50 years," said Warren. "We've enjoyed our work. Our vacation is working with the people and coming to town and seeing that everything works out nicely."

The business's highest volume was reached about two years ago, with the recession, dry crop conditions and stiff competition diminishing the totals somewhat since then, said the founder, "but some of the people who trade with us now are the fourth generation of customers (of the same family)."

"We sell nothing but nationally advertised merchandise, and our policy has always been to undersell Amarillo where the Fair Trade Act will permit."

That merchandise has changed through the years. Mrs. Warren said that she used to sell quilt pieces and batings. "Women would come in and buy three inches from every bolt on the shelf. And that was when it was 19 cents per yard," often staying until 7 o'clock to complete the sale.

A man would work all day for a dollar, Warren said, and come in and buy a pair of overalls for 98 cents. Speaking of the Thirties, "We sold four-piece all-wool suits — coat, vest, and two pairs of pants — for $19.95. Now, it's $100 for a coat and one pair of pants and probably not as good materials."

The store bought men's long-handled underwear by the case — 24 dozen pairs to a case — and buttonhooks by the gross in its earliest years.

Warren started the business without help and worked six days a week from sun-up to "as long as anybody was in town." His first clerk was L. L. Hix, who now lives east of Canyon.

"Mr. Hix and I closed the store one evening and were standing outside on the sidewalk. We hadn't sold $10 worth all day. An old boy drove up in an old T-Model car and said, 'fellows, is it too late to buy some clothes?' and Mr. Hix, who was not a profane man, said, 'Hell, no, it's never too late.' And we opened up and sold 60 dollars worth of clothes."

Warren remembers another employee, Mrs. Willard Word, now of Amarillo, as "a wonderful hand." She worked in the store during the Thirties.

The Warrens' two sons have helped to run the family business for several years.

Meredith, who heads the men's department, returned from World War II as a major in the Air Force. His mother said, "We were scared to death we were going to lose Meredith to an airplane factory in California. But he came in one day and said 'Mother and Dad, I need some clothes. I won't look very good in this uniform behind that counter.' So we bought him four suits."

The Air Force veteran gained considerable experience in blind flying in the Aleutians during the war, and the factory "wanted him to fly their planes," explained his father.

Meredith has ranching interests, as well.

Bernard, the second son, calls himself "the general flunky." He fills in wherever needed, handles advertising and promotion, and manages the office. Bernard was "born in the store," his father said, speaking metaphorically. He began keeping the books while still in high school.

"I don't know what we'd have done without him and Meredith," said Mrs. Warren.

For fifteen years, Bernard also owned and managed a funeral home, but sold it to Jerry LaGrone in 1960.

Another store fixture is Kenneth Eliza (Lige) Frieze, who has headed the shoe department for 46 years. "He's wanting to retire. I don't know what I'm going to do," said Warren.

He chuckled to remember the Saturday night that Frieze, then unmarried, had been to the barber shop and was all dressed up for a date as soon as the store closed at 9 p.m. "Bernard was still a small boy," said the father. "Lige was fitting shoes and Bernard climbed up on the stool and was patting Lige on the head." Frieze didn't pay any attention, explained Warren, because Bernard was very fond of him. "Lige felt something trickling down his back. Bernard had emptied a pencil sharpener full of shavings over him," laughed Warren.

The store's staff has grown to 10, the four Warrens and six employees.

In addition to Frieze, the others are Mrs. Maude Bowe and Mrs. Tommy Johnson of the ladies' ready-to-wear department, Mrs. D'Jelma Amith of the shoe department, Allan Hagemeier of the men's department, and Mrs. Nettie Reynolds, alterations.

The Warrens have four grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Warren are the parents of John, who is studying petroleum engineering at Texas Tech University, and Ric, who marked up a 3.0 average at West Texas State University last semester. He is a pre-med major.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Warren's children are Penny, a home economics major at Tech who is specializing in child development, and Randy, who is enrolled in the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston.

The senior Warrens were married in 1915 in Wichita County. Mrs. Warren is the former Miss Leta McCarty, and met her husband while they were both attending Denton Normal School.

Before coming to Canyon, they both taught school for four years in Coryell County, Warren's home.

government officials and farm leaders setting forth agriculture's precarious plight in the county.

Last year was the driest year in the 90 years of weather record keeping. Maximum moisture received in the county was 9 inches while the normal is somewhat more than 19 inches. Parts of the county received less than four inches.

Only .94 of an inch of moisture has fallen here since the first of the year. That was in the form of snow and drifting caused it to be of little agricultural benefit.

Umpires Needed

Help! Little League and Babe Ruth League needs help from Canyon's menfolks.

Umpires are needed desperately for the summer baseball schedules, and interested men are urged to call Richard Pruett for the Little League, and George Stevens for the Babe Ruth League. Classes will be held for umpires if desired.

Marking 50 years of operation, the Warren family gathers in right are Meredith, Mrs. Warren, W.A. Warren and Bernard Warren's Dry Goods located on the square in Canyon. Left to Warren.

"Becket" On CHS Stage Tonight, Cast To District Contest Friday At WT

"Becket" by Jean Anouilh will be performed for the public on the Canyon High School stage at 8 o'clock tonight.

The contest play will then enter district competition Friday at the Branding Iron Theatre.

"Becket" is a violently emotional drama that probes the changing relationship between two young men . . . between two close friends bound together by similar pride of flesh and spirit who become deadly enemies as they pursue their Webber said Southwestern Public Service Company assumed it was on road right of way.

"We apparently inadvertently put one guy wire on Miss Carter's property in the lake bottom," said Webber. "We made an honest mistake."

"We need someone to tell us where the road is going to be," he went on. "Is it going to be where it is or is it going to go straight? As soon as we know that we can get out of everybody's way."

Commissioner John Fulgenzi was appointed to investigate the matter and report to the court.

In other business the court discussed the sale of a quarter block of city property in the 900 block of Eighth Street. Commissioners decided not to advertise the property for sale until they can dispose of three underground fuel tanks there.

The court authorized the advertising for bids on the three tanks and then ordered a new 1,500 gallon gasoline tank to be placed at the new county barn.

The court decided to purchase a typewriter for the county clerk's office at $340 with rentals already paid to be applied leaving a balance on the machine of $290.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, was authorized to attend a tax seminar May 2-5 in Fort Worth with expenses being paid by the county. The seminar was arranged by the state comptroller.

Fulgenzi has asked that bills payable and purchases for all county departments be listed so commissioners can make quick reference to current and past purchases.

"This is just good management control," Fulgenzi declared.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher was appointed to study a proposed extension of South Grand from 34th Street south two miles to a county road.

The court agreed to advertise for bids on hospital and life insurance on county employees and on hospitalization for dependants of employees.

Members of the "Becket" cast include Bill Reynolds as King Henry the Second; Ronnie Williams as Thomas Becket; Gene Morrison as Gilbert Foliot, the Bishop of London; Bill Anderson as the Archbishop of Canterbury; James Boyce as the Bishop of Oxford; Connie Kelley as the Queen Mother; Karen Malzahn as Queen Eleanor; Julie Brantley as Gwendolyn; James Boyce, Bill Anderson, and Bobby Gregg as the barons; and Mike Rinehart as Louis, King of France.

Sharing billing with the contest entry is "Under the Sycamore Tree." The show is under the direction of Carroll Killingsworth, CHS counselor, who has some twenty years experience in play direction.

"Under the Sycamore Tree" concerns a group of ants looking for "X", which equals love.

Members of the cast for the satire on human beings include Glenda Holladay, as the queen ant; Mike Railroad, as the scientist; Miles Railroad, as the chief statistician; Gary Cox as the general; Tim Brasher as the boy ant; Carol Robinson as the girl ant; Scott Keeling as the brown ant; and workers, Kathy Dees, Jamey Gallemore, John Boone, Diane Boone, Londa Clark, Terry Jo Reynolds, Loyce Kellin, Sharon Freeman, Jo Holladay, and Michell Killingsworth.

Tickets for the performances are $1.25 for adults and $1 for students and may be purchased at the door.

ough about having their pets vaccinated.

"We have vaccinated about 1,000 dogs so far this year," Dr. Markham said. He explained this is a large number for a town the size of Canyon.

The annual rabies drive will be April 30-May 1 this year, the vet noted. Cost of a vaccination during that two day period will be $3. The usual price is $4.

"If you can't get your pet to me," Dr. Markham said, "at least get him vaccinated somewhere."

"One reason we have stayed out of trouble," he noted, "is because Canyon responds to the yearly rabies program."

He gave instructions to persons who think their pet has been bitten by a skunk. "Kill the skunk by shooting it in the body. Bring his head into the office so we can send it off to be analyzed."

If the pet has been vaccinated, there is little danger, but if the pet has not been vaccinated, the pet should be destroyed.

He also said during the rabies program, dogs and cats should be brought to his of-ed acres would be insured if the well were to go dry and a loss were incurred but not if the crop was ruined as a result of a motor break down.

"We can't insure against drought," Curry went on. "It would just be too high."

Joe Koonsen, field representative for FCIC, said some 93 Randall County farmers have availed themselves of FCIC's insurance with underwriting of $235,156 in guaranteed agricultural income no matter what natural hazard should destroy the crops between planting and harvest.

He said many farmers use FCIC insurance to strengthen credit, to reduce specialization risk and to aid in long-term financing of expansion programs.

Koonsen's office is in Room 1105, Herring Plaza, at 317 East Third Avenue in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Michaels visited in Canadian for Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boston were in New Mexico part of the weekend.

And his second concern was the fact that small communities are dying. He said more than 200 towns in Texas will go out of existence in the next 20 to 30 years.

Schofield listed several industries which would fit into the Panhandle economical growth pattern. Some of these include food and kindred products, textile and apparel projects, paper and printing industries, chemical industries, rubber and leather products, glass and related products, primary metal industries, fabricated metal products, machinery, electrical machinery, and transportation equipment.

"These industries would offer opportunity for economical growth," Schofield said.

Schofield challenged the women to develop teamwork in bringing industry to Canyon. He also pointed out that to get an industry to this area, we must pay a price.

"Nothing comes unless you have a goal," Schofield said. "But with a goal to attain, and if we are willing to pay the price, we can accomplish anything."

Both men agreed that economical growth is not the most important thing in a community.

"Quality of living is as important as anything else," Milner said. "So we must make our communities livable."

Painting and printing, clay and wire sculpture, posters and banners, even welding, were mediums of art used by the students in the religion classes of St. Mary's Catholic Church to depict the theme of the Easter Art Show, "Celebrate the Risen Christ."

Recognition was given to all the students who participated and an Easter Egg hunt was provided on Easter Monday, April 12. Ceramic work molded, painted, and fired by Monsignor Matthew F. Schaffle was awarded for outstanding art work.

First prize winners from first grade through high school included Roxanne Skarke, Donna Wieck, Angeline Haschke, Wade Wilhelm, Linda Thompson, and Philip Brandt.

Second prize awards went to Frank Frische, Chris Skarke, Sharon Lindemann, Janet Wilhelm, Deborah Ramaekers, and Dwight Brandt.

Third place winners were Julie Dolle, Marty Gonzales, Gerald Wilhelm, Sharon Ramaekers, Joan Frische, and Patricia Batenhorst.

Class project winners were the second grade, first prize; third and fourth grade, second prize; and fifth and sixth grade, third prize.

Special recognition was given to the young adults who entered the show: Melvin Wieck, who welded an Easter message, Mrs. Ronnie Haschke, who designed a banner, and Kenneth Wieck, who prepared a burlap collage. A painting of the Last Supper sent by Tom Haschke from Viet Nam was on display.

Coordinator for the show was Mrs. Marion Hicks. Judges included Mr. Henry Skypala, Mrs. Frances Groguteg, and Mrs. Vincent Meyer. Mrs. Alois Friemel and Mrs. Robert Koch served refreshments. Chairmen of the hunt were Mrs. Bernard Hartman and Mrs. E.A. Stocker.

Last night, April 14, the 4th, 5th, and 6th grade students of Umbarger Elementary presented a musical program for their parents at the monthly TPO meeting. Under the direction of Mrs. Vincent Ramaekers, the boys presented a medley of western music. Featuring Allen Adams and his guitar, they sang "The Streets of Laredo," "Down in the Valley," "Buffalo Gals," and "Home on the Range."

"Freedom Isn't Free — a Tale of Old Greece," was the patriotic playlet given. Originating as a fable, the play shows the boys acting as frogs while the girls sing modern-day songs: "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," and "The Pledge of Allegiance."

Mrs. Leonard Batenhorst, president of the TPO, presided at the business meeting which followed.

Square dancing lessons will continue tonight in the parish hall with Mr. Herrick Allen beginning calls at 7:00. Pistols and Petticoats Club has recently voted to join the Panhandle Square Dance Association. Representing the club in District IV will be Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wieck, alternates. Membership in the association entitles all club members to participate in square dancing activities in the Panhandle. Selling tickets for the Jubilee to be held in San Antonio are Mr. and Mrs. Milt Suthers.

Mrs. Emma Brandt has had a guest in her home recently. Her sister, Mrs. William Welter of Nebraska City, Nebr., has visited her for two weeks. While the sisters were together, they visited relatives and attended Holy Week services. West Texas strikes Mrs. Welter as being windy and dry.

News Brief

The last social of the year for the University Women of West Texas State University and their husbands will be held Friday evening, April 16 at 7:30 p.m. in room 101 of the Activities Center.

Linda Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Horton, is the 1971 queen of the Palo Duro Rangers. The 17-year-old junior at Canyon High School will compete in the United Sheriff's Poses and Riding Club Queen contest in May in Palo Duro Canyon at the annual trail ride sponsored by the Palo Duro Rangers, the Amarillo and the Canyon Chambers of Commerce.

WT Art Show Honors Mrs. Gwen McFarland

Some 30 to 40 paintings by Mrs. Gwen McFarland will be shown in a two-week show at West Texas State University's Fine Arts Building beginning Sunday.

Mrs. McFarland, who lives in the Arney Community near Happy, will be honored at a reception from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday in the Formal Lounge.

The artist, who received her BS degree from WT in 1969, began painting "years ago." She says she has been painting for as long as she can remember, but only began formal education in 1965.

Mrs. McFarland was born in the Arney Community and married there in 1938. She has three daughters and three grandsons.

The painter, who has hung in numerous one-man and group shows, says that the show will highlight her works in watercolor and cop-

Tennis Match Set Friday

Coach David Kent's West Texas State tennis team hosts Odessa College for a dual match here Friday at 2:30 p.m. and then hosts Baylor University Tuesday, April 20.

Kent saw his Buffaloes fall in their strong bid to win their third team tennis tournament of the season Saturday. They fell to powerful Oklahoma City University, 7-2, in the finals of the OCU Tournament.

The two doubles matches won by West Texas against OCU were the only matches lost by OCU in the entire tournament. Leo Estopare and Mike Bolton combined to win one match, while Dale Corbin and Scott Pool won the other doubles event.

Gene Howe News

BY PAULINE HEFLEY

Vacation time has come and gone and many in our area took time off for traveling around the state. The Johnny Hicks family motored down to Six Flags and spent the day. Then on to Mesquite, Texas, to see the Wonderful World of Animals, which boasts "Drive Your Cage Through Our Zoo." Mrs. Hicks says this is a "must" when you are in that area — among the interesting goings on while there, a baboon climbed on top of their car and son, John, rode a giant turtle.

Our fearless principal, Luther B. Lawless, motored down in the Marshall, Texas country to visit with his folks. Also spent some time in Longview and while there played some golf with Bill Knighton, who many of our readers know.

The James Keith family went to Houston and Galveston to visit with relatives, then back through Dallas to visit with some of James' folks.

The Dub Hefley girls, Jodi and Alexis, presented a harp program for the Indoor Sports Club recently at the Club's Installation of Officers meeting. Mrs. Sherman "Oletta" Jones of the Gene Howe area went out as president, but was installed as treasurer. Congratulations to Oletta.

Mrs. Guy "Troyce" Mulherin will appear on the Bill Sexton Show on KGNC TV at 12:30 on April 22. Troyce is President of the Arts Unlimited Club and they are having their spring arts and crafts show from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the 22nd at the Federated Women's Club in Amarillo. There will be various art objects for sale and one special display will be the arts and crafts made by the children at the State Center for Human Development.

As you remember, Troyce will be the next President of the Gene Howe P.T.A. Also this Saturday at 2 p.m. Troyce will be modeling in a style show at the Coronado Inn, around the pool. She was voted the "Outstanding Girl" in her Beta Sigma Phi chapter. Approximately twenty girls will be modeling in this show with the proceeds going to further service projects. Tickets are $1.00 at the door. Congratulations to you, Troyce, for this honor and we already knew you were "outstanding."

The choir at the Hollywood Baptist Church presented a Cantata entitled "Man of Sorrows" under the direction of Jack Carter Easter evening. What a lovely climax to a most meaningful day.

The Junior High and the High School classes from the Hollywood Baptist Church held a skating party with approximately 20-25 in attendance. It seems as though during a recent revival the young people of the congregation had challenged the adults to see who could get the most people to attend and the young people came out on top, so the adults got to pick up the tab.

WT Prexy Chamber Speaker

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State University, will speak Friday afternoon at the 53rd annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. His subject is "Educational Excellence, A Growing Asset."

The theme for this year's convention, which will take place in Amarillo's Quality Motel, is "The Good Life in West Texas — Now and Future."

Joe Gidden will attend in his capacity as representative of the Canyon Chamber. Eddie Knowles, president of the local group, and Roland Black, its manager, and Raymond Raillard also plan to be present.

Congressman Bob Price will speak at the banquet this evening.

CHS Judging Teams Face Two Contests

Canyon High School judging teams will compete this week in contests at Boys Ranch and West Texas State University.

The four boys traveling to Boys Ranch for the Amarillo district meats contest today will be Neil James, Jerry Hill, Dwight Brant, and Tommy Cook.

Canyon will field three teams at the WT contest Saturday. The boys will compete in livestock, dairy, and dairy products judging rounds. The Saturday competition is practice for the area contest scheduled for April 24 at Tech.

Canyon will be co-host for the grass judging contest. Other areas for competition will be soils, and crops.

Mrs. Terry Glen Landrum

Miss Davis Weds Terry Landrum

In an early spring setting Friday evening, Emily Jan Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bryant Davis became the bride of Terry Glen Landrum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Landrum.

The Rev. J. Frank Peery officiated at the double ring ceremony which was held in the home of the bride's parents, 26 Hunsley Hills Boulevard.

Mrs. Anita Walsh, pianist, played a nuptial prelude and traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional.

An improvised altar was placed before the Austin stone fireplace where the mantle was centered with a sunburst arrangement of ivory stock flanked on each side with twin seven-branch candelabras entwined with smilax garland. On the hearth, large white urns filled with ivory cream stock and ivory tulips flanked the bride party. Clusters of emerald foliage palms on each end of the hearth completed the setting.

Honor attendants for the couple were Miss Shelley Nan Davis, sister of the bride, and Jerry Lynn Landrum, twin brother of the groom. Miss Davis wore a floor length gown of apricot organdy and carried a hand cluster of apricot roses and white baby's breath.

Ring bearer for the wedding was Matthew Davis, brother of the bride. Ushers were Phillip Davis and Drew Walsh.

Entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was attired in a bridal gown of candlelight satin fashioned with empire waist and appliques of re-embroidered alencon lace and seed pearls, which was designed and made by her mother. A three-quarter triple tier of French illusion was attached to a matching hat. For her bridal bouquet, she carried a prayer book with a cascade arrangement of ivory and apricot roses accented with white baby's breath.

Following the ceremony, reception guests were received. Miss Cynthia Ann Byars registered guests.

The table decor carried out the bride's colors of champagne and apricot. Centering the table was a floral arrangement of white carnations, apricot roses and baby's breath with accents of smilax garlands. A four-tiered wedding cake and an antique cut glass punch bowl completed the table setting. Mrs. J. Manly Bryan presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Don Byars served the wedding cake.

Assisting as members of the houseparty were Mrs. James Murphy White, Mrs. Harold Lee Erwin, Mrs. H. R. Fulton, Jr., Mrs. Robert T. Lindsey, Mrs. J. D. Byrd, Mrs. Larry Hooper, Mrs. Jerry Landrum, and Miss Ann Walsh.

The couple will reside in Canyon at 2109 7th Avenue.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. Boyce Colwell, maternal grandparents of the bride of Tulsa; Mrs. Anita Walsh, Drew and Ann of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Landrum and Mr. Joe Landrum of Shamrock; and Mr. Ricky Siewert of Amarillo.

Get your money's worth electric air conditioning

OVER 30 YEARS OF PROVEN DEPENDABILITY

Just like your refrigerator, electric air conditioning uses the same experience-proven method of cooling. A dependable compressor keeps on cooling no matter how high the outside temperature.

LOW OPERATING COST

Before you buy, be sure you have complete information. Electric air conditioning saves you money when you buy and because it uses only electricity and free air, your operating cost is low no extra installation costs, either!

HIGH ALTITUDE — NO PROBLEM

Despite our high altitude, electric air conditioning keeps on doing its job because the electric cooling method is completely sealed against the effects of altitude changes.

CHOICE OF BRANDS

There are 58 manufacturers of electric air conditioning and all major brands are available in our area. Brands in your area are listed in the Yellow Pages or identified on your neighborhood dealer's store front.

CHOICE OF SIZES

Electric air conditioning offers the right size for your cooling job. Too large a unit makes your first cost unnecessarily high; too small runs up operating cost. Electric air conditioning can save you money on both counts.

COMPLETE SERVICE

The principle of electric air conditioning is so well understood and the parts so easy to change that any air conditioning man can give you service quickly should you ever need it.

Dimple Crow, Dedicated To Painting The Texas Bluebonnet

BY CAROL CRAIN

"I paint because it's me," Mrs. W. R. (Dimple) Crow stated, "It came in the package with me."

And paint she has, for the past 35 years. . . her first show was held at West Texas State Normal College when she was 13 years of age.

For the past 25 years Mrs. Crow has specialized in painting the Texas Bluebonnet. Each spring she makes a pilgrimage to the Bluebonnet Country of central Texas to study the state flower.

"I walk and walk for hours," she said wistfully, "There are acres and acres of them. . . and oh, how I do love them."

"I walk in reverence in God's own flower garden," she continued, noting that the flowers were planted and watered by His hands, and are not in rows the way some artists paint them.

"They grow in crevices and valleys along with the dry grass, Indian paint, and around tree stumps," she pointed out.

"And, everytime you turn there's a new picture to paint," the artist said nostalgically.

After she has made the trek and studied for hours upon end, Mrs. Crow returns to her home in Canyon to paint.

"I can't pose my subjects, or set up my easel at the scene — I draw upon memory for my subjects," she continued saying that she will sketch sometimes or take color pictures, "but, mostly I rely upon hard work to secure the natural effects I desire."

"I won't touch the canvas unless I see it," she stated. "I have to have inspiration. . . then I live with it."

"I put a part of me in each picture."

"I've had lots of instruction, but I always go back to my own. . . that's nature. I love nature, her clouds, the blue grey mist; I'm in another world when I'm painting."

Mrs. Crow was born on the Brooks Ranch near Silverton, in Briscoe County, and has lived in Tulia, Happy, and Canyon. Her husband is a pioneer rancher and is partner with his son in Canyon grocery stores. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. Brooks of Swisher Counties.

The talented artists paints from three to five hours a day, allowing no interference with her schedule unless it involves her family, 5 children 12 grandchildren, 5 great-grandchildren, and husband Bill.

Of her family she says, "They are all masterpieces, they cooperated beautifully with my schedule of work."

"I painted in various media and at china painting until I fell in love with oils some 32 years ago."

"I intend to paint as long as I can see and as I see it, to please myself, and no one mind set critic," she said.

The Texas Fine Arts Association member sold her first bluebonnet painting to the Walter Graham Ranch. Since selling that first painting Mrs. Crow has shown in numerous galleries and has participated in many shows.

Her paintings now hang in countless private collections throughout the Southwest.

Currently, her collection is being shown at Taos, New Mexico and invitations for her to show in points across Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma are filling her calendar.

Before each showing each piece of art is named, numbered, and framed. Some of her recent paintings are titled "Blue Texas", "A Patch of Blue", "Promised Land", and "Homestead".

"I can't sense the value of my pictures, because to me, the canvas, brushes, palette, and oils are just a way to express feelings I cannot put into words."

The Canyon talent turned away some 43 persons last year who wanted her to begin giving art instruction.

"I'm a friendly loner, who needs solitude to think, paint, and create my own."

Mrs. John Tower Describes Washington Life, Politics

BY MARGO CRABTREE
"We do not have a typical homelife," quips Mrs. John Tower as she describes her marriage to and life with a United States Senator.

Mrs. Tower made a brief stop in Canyon Tuesday and addressed around 80 women in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Manly Bryan. The stop here was one of several she is making during a week-long tour of the Panhandle.

The wife of the Texas Senator said she was glad her three daughters had been exposed to Washington, but she was equally happy they are now back in Texas. The three girls are enrolled in Hockaday School in Dallas.

She mentioned during her coffee here, she and the senator are living in an apartment in Washington, which she can lock up quickly and be on her way back to Texas with little preparation.

"John travels a lot, and so is seldom at home," she notes. "And when he is home it is difficult to know when he will be home."

"Because he is gone a lot, lots of the home decisions were left in my hands," she recalls. "And thank goodness, John and I agree on the way children should be raised."

She mentioned the couple has retained their home in Wichita Falls and spent Easter holidays there.

Mrs. Tower was asked about her husband's possible opponent in 1972, Lt. Governor Ben Barnes.

"John has not announced yet," she mentioned. "But if he does announce to seek reelection, he will beat Mr. Barnes if Mr. Barnes decides to run, but I do not believe he has announced his candidacy."

"In fact, I believe John can beat anyone who runs against him."

She praised the work not only of her husband in the Senate, but all law makers in Washington.

"They work so hard, seeking to do the best for their people. In fact, they work hard for those people who did not vote for them also."

She was questioned about her own political aspirations, and she retorted, "I do not have political aspirations for myself."

She continued, saying, "I think if a woman is qualified she should run for public office."

She expressed her main concern is for her husband to fulfill his potential, whether it is in politics, teaching or any other field he wishes to enter.

She told the group of women gathered Tuesday that women throughout the nation are concerned and involved in national, state and local politics.

"Remember, you get what you put in office," she quipped.

And she encouraged the women to take an active part in looking at political issues. "Our leaders want to hear from you."

She concluded her stay in Canyon, saying she likes the atmosphere in Texas. "I just like our way of life down here, as compared to that in Washington, D.C.," she said speaking of her daughters in Dallas.

Canyon Building Permits Higher

Building permits for Canyon number 24 so far this year totalling $277,525, according to building inspector E. A. Collie.

This figure is $117,279 above the same period in 1970, and is $161,418 below building figures in 1969.

A breakdown of monthly permits issued shows in January of this year three residential permits were given for $36,000, and a storage building and remodeled building brought the monthly figure to $39,750.

The 1970 January figure was $36,283, and in 1969 it was $31,000.

In February, permits totalled $53,100 including three moved residences, a remodeled commercial building, the remodeling of a day school, one residential building, a bath house, and conversion of a garage to a den.

February of 1970 the figure stood at $61,000 for the month, and the year before it was $138,100.

March totals for this year were $141,675 with the bulk of the cost being shown in an 18-unit apartment complex at 2608 Second Ave. Last year the total was $53,200, and in 1969 it was $49,060 for March.

To date in April, permits amount to $43,000 with all of them being residential dwellings. During the month of April last year, a total of $9,765 in permits was issued, and the figure was $70,300 in 1969.

Collie said he expects the city will see more growth this year than in 1970.

Dr. Burwell Southern shows off three sets of coins from his collection, which he values at $9,000. Shown are Mercury dimes, Lincoln head cents from 1909 to 1938, and "Walking Liberty" half dollars.

BY NELL WILLIAMS
Dr. Burwell Southern, 2623 11th Ave., will attend the annual state convention of the Texas Numismatic Association in Amarillo's Civic Center Friday, Saturday, and Sunday to admire the coin collections on display and visit with fellow collectors.

Dr. Southern's own collection, which he values at about $9,000, started with a "penny board," given him by an aunt when he was 12. "When I pretty well filled it up and didn't spend any, I became a collector."

The most valuable single coins Southern owns include a pair of 1921 half dollars, one from the Denver mint and one from Philadelphia, which he said are worth $250 to $300 apiece, a 1916D dime, worth about $240, and a dime with an overprint on it — 1942 superimposed on a 1941 date — also worth about $240.

The highly polished collection is kept in a bank vault. Dr. Southern regrets that he is unable to keep the coins at home, where he could enjoy them.

Among the prizes which Dr. Southern displays are complete sets of uncirculated Franklin half-dollars and Roosevelt dimes. His special interest is in putting extra-fine sets together. He picks a series to complete and concentrates on that, to avoid having a great deal of money tied up in miscellaneous, unrelated coins.

He spent three years gathering a set of "Walking Liberty" half dollars, which were minted from 1916-1947.

ROTC Formal Inspection Today At WT

ROTC cadets at West Texas State University will undergo a formal military inspection today, according to Lt. Col. James W. Hanks, of the University's military science department.

President of the Annual Formal Inspection Board will be Col. Lloyd W. McLean of the military science faculty at Cameron State College at Lawton, Oklahoma.

The board's inspection will include administration, logistics, and training.

The cadets will be inspected in drill formations and members of the department will brief the team on ROTC operations at WT.

Other members of the board will be Major James L. Buckner of ODCSRF headquarters of the Fourth U.S. Army and Major Mitchell L. Leeds of Henderson State College.

Canyon Hosts Demonstration On Bombing

Nine Canyon policemen will participate in a five-day school entitled "Bomb Matters" April 26-30 at Amarillo College.

Canyon Police Chief Calvin Costley said Canyon will host a demonstration on bombing and the effects a bomb can have on cars and other structures.

The course is approved and will allow those attending to receive 30 hours of credit toward their law enforcement accreditation.

Those on the program include Walter Eubanks, director of the Law Enforcement Academy; Joseph M. Myers, F. B. I.; Tom O'Malley, F. B. I.; Lt. John Hoffman and Sgt. First Class Ralph Callin of Amarillo; Thomas Brodie of the Dade County Public Safety Dept. in Miami, Florida; and Costley of Canyon.

Parkins Speaks Faculty Series

Dr. Reynell M. Parkins, faculty member of the University of Texas at Austin, will speak on "Identity Problems of Minority Groups" at 8:15 p.m. next Tuesday in the Fine Arts Theatre.

The speaker was born in Panama and was educated at the University of Oregon and New York University. He came to South Texas after several years of criminal law practice.

Coin Collection Starts With Gift 'Penny Board'

"I ordered about 10 1921 half-dollars that were over-graded (not as fine as advertised) before I got one good enough."

Other complete sets include the war-year nickels, made almost entirely of silver; Washington quarters from 1932 to 1964, the years when those quarters were made of silver; and the "Peace Dollars," a series of silver dollars issued from 1921 to 1935.

Now, Dr. Southern said, it is possible to get special mint sets or the more highly polished proof sets, but his own coins have mostly been taken out of circulation, bought from dealers, or traded for from other collectors.

Anyone interested in starting a collection now should start with coins in circulation, he said. These would be clad coins and nickels and pennies. The newer ones are easy to find, said Dr. Southern, though it is very difficult to get a complete set of either nickels or pennies. He subscribes to two magazines about coins and belongs to the Amarillo Coin Club, and the American Numismatic Association, and finds most of the coins he acquires through these sources.

He is looking forward to May or June when banks will have forms available for ordering Eisenhower silver dollars to be minted especially for collectors. Very few of these dollars will ever be circulated, he said.

There will be some outstanding coins shown in Amarillo, in Dr. Southern's opinion, and he believes that even people who are not collectors would enjoy seeing them.

Dr. Southern said that the United States first minted coins in 1794. Coins have been scarce till modern times, and American citizens used foreign money and coins minted by merchants in commerce as late as the 1880's, he said.

WT Hosts Track Meet

Texas Tech and host West Texas are expected to battle for the team championship of the second annual West Texas State Invitational

Track Meet Saturday.

The Buffaloes and Tech are expected to have a little more team strength than the other entry — University of Texas at Arlington.

Buffalo coach Bob Kitchens is worried about Tech's fine depth.

Kitchens saw a lack of depth prove fatal Saturday in the New Mexico State Invitational. Eastern New Mexico University scored at least four points in every event to win that meet with 92 points.

The Buffaloes placed second with 78 1/2 points, despite the fact they won seven first places. Jimmy Rogers won two first places — taking the long jump with 22-2 and the pole vault with 13-6.

The Buffs won both relays. They won the 440-yard relay in 42.5 and the mile relay in 3:20.8. Other first places were a 6-6 effort in the high jump by Steve Butler, a 1:55.5 in the 880 by Harvey Hudspeth and a 48.7 in the 440 by Tracy Dickson.

Buff Scrimmage Slated Saturday

Spring football drills at West Texas State started up again Tuesday after a break of 10 days for the Easter vacation.

The 10-day break gave the players some time to get out of shape and it took several days to tone back into shape, but it also gave the coaching staff time to evaluate the team after one week.

The first scrimmage session is slated for Saturday afternoon in Buffalo Bowl.

All players came out of the first week of drills without injuries, but two players will miss the remainder of spring practice because of injuries from last fall. Bruce Whisenhunt, returning defensive line regular, and freshman running back Roosevelt Jackson underwent operations for shoulder injuries during the vacation period.

Both Whisenhunt and Jackson received their injuries during the fall and they had not responded to treatment. Whisenhunt is from Tulia and Jackson from Kress.

Anthony's Extends A Warm Congratulations To Warren's On Their 50th Anniversary In Canyon

Five hundred dollars worth of damage was done to the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity sign last week on the Hereford Highway. Vandals are believed to have thrown full pop bottles through the electrical sign. Several were on the ground around the sign and one was lodged in its base.

Fireman Urges Blaze Caution

Canyon Fire Captain Joe Rice urges every resident to be extremely careful with fires of all sizes.

"With the dry weather we have, it only takes a small fire to make a big one," Rice explains.

He gives no special instructions to be followed at this time, but does stress the need for everyone to be very careful in their dealings with fires of all kinds.
